South City Mystery --$77,000 in Suitcase

South San Francisco police have a $77,000 mystery on their hands.

A small suitcase, containing a small quantity of marijuana, cash, diamonds, drugs, and other valuables, was found in a suitcase containing $77,000.

After attachment under day, Steve Green, 22, and Yale Levinson, 20, were charged with possession of the suitcase.

The two, joined suits in police department, brought their inquiries about the suitcase to the police.

Bay Roof Firm Sued -Pollution

A San Leandro roofing company which produces heavy runoff water into the bay, was sued for $25,000 damages by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The suit, filed in Alameda Superior Court under a new state law, is against the Law & P. Roofing Co., which the district says has been dumping for years.
